

National Intelligence Daily (Cable)

9 February 1982

State Dept. review completed

Top Secret

CO NIDC 82-033C

9 February 1982

Copy 419

Approved For Release 2008/08/28 : CIA-RDP84T003	01R000100010128-5 Top_Secret
		25 X 1
Contents
Poland: Possible Compulsory Deliveries		. 1
International: Terrorist Threats Again	est US Targets	. 3
Syria: Fighting in Hamah		. 4
USSR-Mozambique: Concerns Over Namibia
Chad: OAU Summit Outlook Dim
USSR-Europe: CSCE Conference Resumes .
China-USSR-US: Chinese Annoyance With China-US: Criticism of Export Controls
Special Analysis	• • • • • • • •	. 0
-
USSR: Chernenko's Policy Views	• • • • • • • •	. 9
		25

POLAND: Possible Compulsory Deliveries  The party paper claims that compulsory grain deliveries are the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trads wions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  1	Approved For Release 2008/08/28 : CIA-RDP84T	00301R000100010128-5	25 X 1
The party paper claims that compulsory grain deliveries are the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trade unions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forcest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1  Top Secret  Top Secret		Top Secret	7
The party paper claims that compulsory grain deliveries are the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trade unions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forcest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1  Top Secret  Top Secret
The party paper claims that compulsory grain deliveries are the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trade unions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forcest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1  Top Secret  Top Secret
The party paper claims that compulsory grain deliveries are the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trade unions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forcest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1  Top Secret  Top Secret the only alternative to bread rationing. There are reports of armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government is calling for public discussion of the future of trade unions.  A commentary in the party daily yesterday implies that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1 continued	POLAND: Possible Compulsory Delive	eries that compulsory deliveries will be introduced soon to avoid bread rationing. The article claims that the government is rapidly drawing down grain reserves and that daily procurements fill only 20 percent of the needs.  Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  the US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1 continued	the only alternative to bread rationing. armed resistance in Wroclaw. The government	There are reports of on the contract of the co	25 X 1
Comment: The regime may be unhappy over farmers' initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  Top Secret  25X1  Top Secret	that compulsory deliveries will be avoid bread rationing. The article government is rapidly drawing down	introduced soon to e claims that the grain reserves and initial response to the increased grain prices last week and their continuing reluctance to take up the government's offer to buy grain now with payment to be made in 1983-85 at prices existing at the time. Poland's inability to import more grain is prompting it to rely more on domestic procurements.  The distrustful farmers—who can store grain for as long as two years—apparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  25X1  the US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  25X1 continued		zo percent or the	25 X 1 long as two yearsapparently are holding back because of their concern over unsettled conditions, their need to use grain for livestock feed, and their frustration with supply shortages. Forced deliveries would alienate farmers and would lead to some distress slaughtering of livestock. In the long term this would cause a further drop in meat supplies.  The US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners.  Top Secret  Top Secret	initial response to the increased and their continuing reluctance to ment's offer to buy grain now with in 1983-85 at prices existing at the inability to import more grain is	grain prices last week take up the govern- payment to be made he time. Poland's	25X1
the US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners. continued  25X1	long as two yearsapparently are of their concern over unsettled co to use grain for livestock feed, a with supply shortages. Forced del farmers and would lead to some dis	holding back because nditions, their need nd their frustration iveries would alienate tress slaughtering of	25X1
the US Consul in Poznan reports that approximately 300 people, most of them soldiers who have deserted their units, have formed an armed resistance group in an isolated area near Wroclaw. The Consul has heard from other contacts about the formation of a "forest" unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary Army and has received a copy of a letter in English from the group demanding the release of prisoners. continued  25X1	livestock. In the long term this drop in meat supplies.	would cause a fulther	25 X 1
25X1 Top Secret	the US C that approximately 300 people, mos have deserted their units, have fo group in an isolated area near Wro heard from other contacts about the unit of the Wroclaw Revolutionary a copy of a letter in English from	t of them soldiers who brmed an armed resistance claw. The Consul has be formation of a "fores Army and has received the group demanding	st"
25X1 Top Secret		continued
Top Secret		concinded
0.5744			25X1
	1	Top Secret	25X1

	Top Secret
		25 X 1
Comment: This is the first report resistance group has been formed. Alterist easily be the product of the active Poit should be taken seriously. Such an be attractive to rebellious, romantic number of signs suggest that Wroclaw hof unrest.	chough it could olish rumor mill, n endeavor would Polish vouth: a	25 X 1
		20/(1
The government has directed Deput to prepare a report by the end of the premises for the rebirth of the trade and has called for public discussion o Meanwhile, the regime has eased restrisions in Poland, apparently making goo Minister Czyrek's pledge last week tha mats would soon be able to move more focuntry.	month on "the union movement" of the report. In a ctions on US misted on Foreign of the testern diplo-	25X1
Comment: The government appeared conciliatory gestures on the eve of the in Madrid in an effort to reduce Wester preparation of a report by Rakowski-wopposes revival of Solidarity-seems 1 the beginning of efforts to justify creating the second sec	e CSCE conference rn criticism. The ho reportedly ittle more than pliant trade union structure.		25 X 1

Approved For Release 2008/08/28 : CIA-RDP84T00301R000100010128-5
• •	25 X 1
Top Secret
	25X1
INTERNATIONAL: Terrorist Threats Against US Targets
//A rash of recent reports indicates that US officials in several West European countries and in the Middle East are under increasing threat from disparate terrorist groups.//	_ 25X1 _ 25X1
According to the US Embassy in Paris at least seven US officials there have been under intermittent and presumably hostile surveillance.//	s, 25X1
Red Army Faction is targeting high-ranking US military and diplomatic personnel. Italian and US terrorism experts are concerned that the Red Brigades will attempt to try a spectacular incident to regain their credibility. Meanwhile, a US Embassy in Latin America has received a report that a four-man hit team was en route last week to London to kill a US official.//	25X1
//In Beirut, the US Embassy recently reported that Armenian terrorists may strike US targets to try to force the release of the accused killer of the Turkish Consul-General in Los Angeles. Moreover, Libyan leader Qadhafi's apparent beliefs that the US Navy is threatening Libyan territory and that the US may have been involved in an assassination attempt on him in December increase the likelihood of renewed Libyan terrorist acts directed against the US.//	25X1 ng 25X1
Comment: //A successful attack by one terrorist group tends to encourage similar efforts by others. The recent reports of terrorist plans vary widely in quality and specificity, but their volume and focus on US targets is cause for serious concern. If terrorist groups are unable to attack senior US officials, some may resort to attacking lower level US personnel or dependents.//

Top Secret

25X1

Approved For Release 2008/08/28: CIA-RDP84T00301R000100010128	2 8 -5
---	---------------

Top Secret

SYRIA: Fighting in Hamah

The Syrian Army reportedly has sealed off the central city of Hamah following new clashes there between government security forces and Muslim Brotherhood extremists.

25X1

The US Embassy reports that the authorities have cut off all road, telephone, and telex communications with the city and have brought in additional military units since the situation began to deteriorate about a week ago. Heavy fighting continues, and there are reports of artillery and tank fire and airstrikes.

25X1

Government forces apparently include the armored brigade at Hamah, commando units, and elements of elite Defense Companies commanded by President Assad's brother. Another mechanized infantry brigade, which is reported absent from its garrison north of Damascus, also may be involved in the fighting.

25X1

Hamah, a largely Sunni city and a stronghold of the Brotherhood, has long been a center of activity against Assad's minority Alawite regime. In 1980 and again last December, fighting between security forces and Brotherhood insurgents and their supporters led authorities to seal off the city.

25X1

25X1

Top Secret

Approved For Release	2008/08/28	CIA DDD84T00304	D000100010129 5
Approved For Release	ZUU0/U0/Z0 .	CIA-RDP04100301	.RUUU 1UUU 1U 1∠o-3

USSR-MOZAMBIQUE: Concerns Over Namibia  //The USSR is increasina its efforts to disrupt a US-sponsored settlement in Namibia.//  Cuban-Angolan communique over the weekend on the conditions for Cuban withdrawal from Angola. The Soviets are construing it as separating the issue of the Cuban military presence in Angola from a solution to the Namibian problem, although in fact the communique reiterates long held positions.//  Comment: //Machel so far has not played a disruptive role in Frontline discussions on Namibia and is unlikely to be persuaded by the Soviets to do so soon. Nevertheless, he is waging an uphill battle against the South African - backed National Resistance Movement that eventually may compel him to move closer to Moscow on the Namibian issue in exchange for substantial military aid.//  The Soviet treatment of the Cuban-Angolan communique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret 25X1  Top Secret 25X1  Top Secret 25X1			Top Secret
//TASS, meanwhile, has given extensive play to the Cuban-Angolan communique over the weekend on the conditions for Cuban withdrawal from Angola. The Soviets are construing it as separating the issue of the Cuban military presence in Angola from a solution to the Namibian problem, although in fact the communique reiterates long held positions.//  Comment: //Machel so far has not played a disruptive role in Frontline discussions on Namibia and is unlikely to be persuaded by the Soviets to do so soon. Nevertheless, he is waging an uphill battle against the South African - backed National Resistance Movement that eventually may compel him to move closer to Moscow on the Namibian issue in exchange for substantial military aid.//  The Soviet treatment of the Cuban-Angolan communique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret	USSR-MOZAMBIOUE: Concerns	Over Namibi	а	25 X 1
Cuban-Angolan communique over the weekend on the conditions for Cuban withdrawal from Angola. The Soviets are construing it as separating the issue of the Cuban military presence in Angola from a solution to the Namibian problem, although in fact the communique reiterates long held positions.//  Comment: //Machel so far has not played a disruptive role in Frontline discussions on Namibia and is unlikely to be persuaded by the Soviets to do so soon. Nevertheless, he is waging an uphill battle against the South African - backed National Resistance Movement that eventually may compel him to move closer to Moscow on the Namibian issue in exchange for substantial military aid.//  The Soviet treatment of the Cuban-Angolan communique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret  25X1  Top Secret	//The USSR is increasing i			sored
Cuban-Angolan communique over the weekend on the conditions for Cuban withdrawal from Angola. The Soviets are construing it as separating the issue of the Cuban military presence in Angola from a solution to the Namibian problem, although in fact the communique reiterates long held positions.//  Comment: //Machel so far has not played a disruptive role in Frontline discussions on Namibia and is unlikely to be persuaded by the Soviets to do so soon. Nevertheless, he is waging an uphill battle against the South African - backed National Resistance Movement that eventually may compel him to move closer to Moscow on the Namibian issue in exchange for substantial military aid.//  The Soviet treatment of the Cuban-Angolan communique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret  25X1  Top Secret role in Frontline discussions on Namibia and is unlikely to be persuaded by the Soviets to do so soon. Nevertheless, he is waging an uphill battle against the South African - backed National Resistance Movement that eventually may compel him to move closer to Moscow on the Namibian issue in exchange for substantial military aid.//  The Soviet treatment of the Cuban-Angolan communique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret  25X1	Cuban-Angolan communique of tions for Cuban withdrawal are construing it as separa military presence in Angola Namibian problem, although	ver the week from Angola ating the is a from a sol in fact the	end on the cond The Soviets sue of the Cub- ution to the	di- <sup>25</sup> ^1 an itmunique is another indication the Soviets are worried that a compromise settlement will involve a reduction of Cuban and Soviet influence in Angola.//  Top Secret 25X1	role in Frontline discussion to be persuaded by the Sovietes, he is waging an uphing African - backed National Edually may compel him to more	ons on Namib iets to do s ll battle ag Resistance M ove closer t	oia and is unli to soon. Never tainst the Sout tovement that e to Moscow on the	kely the- h 25X1 ven-
Top Secret	The Soviet treatment munique is another indication that a compromise settlement	nt of the Cu ion the Sovi nt will invo	ban-Angolan co ets are worrie lve a reduction	m- d 25X1
		5	Top Secret

	Top Secret	25X1
CHAD: OAU Summit Outlook Dim
African leaders meeting in Nairobi tomos unlikely to succeed in efforts to persuade Cha Goukouni to negotiate with rebel leader Habre conclude he has no choice but to try to seize	adian President , who could soon	25 X 1
The summit will explore ways to e factions to reconcile. It also will a and logistic problems facing the OAU p tion in Chad.	ddress financial	25X1
Habre's insurgents have continued large areas of eastern and northern Ch nalists who recently met with Habre be growing impatient with Goukouni and wi if prospects for a political settlemen	ad. French jour- lieve that he is ll attack N'Djamena	25 X 1
Comment: Goukouniwho may not a would have much to lose by including H aimed at forming a new government. Th Minister is a shrewd negotiator and ha vered Goukouni in the past.	abre in discussions e former Defense
The President could inadvertently a pretext to move on the capital if he them by trying to regain lost territor forces are no match for Habre's well-a guerrillas, and new fighting could cau break up and civil war to resume.	were to provoke y. Government rmed, experienced	25 X 1
Without continued Western financi troop-donor countries will find it dif months to keep their forces in Chad. the peacekeeping operation would enhannew Libyan meddling and would be a profor Qadhafi, whose troops kept order is before they withdrew last November.	ficult in a few The collapse of ce prospects for paganda victory	25X1

6

Top Secret

	Top Secret
USSR-EUROPE: CSCE Conference Resume	s
The CSCE review conference reconvenes charged atmosphere created by events in Pol		in a 25 X 1
The Soviets and their East Euro aware that they will be confronted be Ministers intent on focusing on Poli tions of the spirit and provisions of Act.	y Western Fore sh and Soviet	eign viola-
//The Western allies, however, proceed beyond what may prove to be Many would prefer to resume discussicluding document tabled before Chrisneutral and nonaligned countries but US objections to conducting business	two weeks of point of the draft that by the grant are sympathet	oolemics. Et con- 25X1 coup of
//The West Germans continue to of an early recess, but many Western serving their decisions pending deve convened meeting. The neutral and maintain similarly have no agreed position.//	delegations a lopments at the onaligned cour	ire re- ie re-
Comment: East European delegate exercise the procedural right to restoday to each Western statement with accusations. The Soviets and their not prepared, however, to bear the racollapse of the meeting and will we that they remain committed to "determine the remain committed to determine the remain committed to the remain committed to determine the remain committed the remain committed to determine the remain co	pond immediate standard cour allies probablesponsibility ork to demonst	ely ater- y are for
Current circumstances indicate ably will not achieve its primary go agreement to convene a European disa Eastern delegations nevertheless will West European opinion by maintaining and nonaligned draft document is a unther negotiation. As a goodwill ges may offer an initiative on security concession to the West's position reof application for so-called militar security-building measures.	pal of obtaining armament confermance to a continue to a that the neutron the seful basis for ture, the Sovieture, probable garding the zero.	rence. court cral or fur- ets oly a one
Human rights questions, however be a stumblingblock. The Polish crications will reinforce Soviet resist posals, including those for meetings experts and for an end to jamming of into Eastern Europe.	sis and its ra ance to Wester of human righ	amifi- n pro- nts
7	Top Secret	0574
1		25X1

Top Secret	25X1
CHINA-USSR-US: Chinese Annoyance With Soviets  //Beijing accused Moscow on Saturday of trying to poison Sino-US relations. In private statements to foreign diplomats, Chinese officials have declared that relations with Moscow would have no prospect of improv- ing even if Sino-US ties were to deteriorate.//	25X1
Comment: //The Chinese are annoyed at recent Soviet and East European efforts to create the impression that Sino-Soviet relations are improving because of Chinese dissatisfaction with the US. Although the Chinese used the USSR's offer last fall to reopen border talks as a pretext for putting pressure on Washington, Beijing is now making clear that China is not willing to go along with the Soviet campaign.//	25X1
//Beijing is criticizing US export control policy toward China in spite of the recent easing of restrictions on sales of technology and military equipment. Chinese trade officials are warning US businessmen that significant high-technology sales are being lost to foreign competitors because of licensing delays and other restrictions. These officials also are complaining to US Government representatives that export controls infringe on Chinese sovereignty and impede developing better relations between the two countries.//
Comment: //These actions reflect a Chinese desire to loosen US export controls further in order to provide freer access to US technology. At the same time, the Chinese are increasing their efforts to obtain US technology illegally.//	25X1
	25 X 1 <sup>4</sup>

Top Secret 25X1

	Top Secret	25X1
SPECIAL ANALYSIS
USSR: Chernenko's Policy Views		25X1
The death of Mikhail Suslov and the que place in the leadership rankings by party Se altered the balance of opinion within the Posterially identified with a less doctrinaire and domestic issues. Unlike Suslov, who dee and favored tight control at home, Chernenko proponent of President Brezhnev's foreign posinterests, and of a more open leadership sty	cretary Chernenko ha litburo. Chernenko approach on foreign ply distrusted the W has been an outspok licy, of consumer	ave is ! !est
Brezhnev appears to have used Susignal his support for Chernenkohis last 25 yearsand his distrust of And more senior party secretary who heret the best position to succeed Brezhnev assumed Suslov's place in the Polithuings, jumping over Kirilenko into the second secretary. He also appears to date to take over some of Suslov's du logical and foreign policy areas.	s protege for the drey Kirilenko, cofore had been i cofore had been i cofore protocol rappets spot of unoffico be a strong can	a n nk- ial di-
The rise of Chernenko, which beg totally attributable to Brezhnev's ir not have an independent power base, h most of his career as a staff assista managerial responsibility.	nfluence. He doe naving served for
//Members of the US delegation at Vienna in 1979 noted that Politburo me Soviet entourage appeared to have lithing or his opinions, failing to inclusion conversations on many occasions.//	nembers in the ttle respect for ade him in their	25X1
Brezhnev's support may do Cherne after the President leaves the scene.	Unless Brezhne continu
9	Top Secret	25 X 1

	Top Secret
		25X1
uses the time he has left to expand Charles throughout the party bureaucracy, he may replace Brezhnev as party leader. New Chernenko's prospects have brightened the last two weeks, and his influence circles probably will be greater.	May not be able to vertheless,	25X1
Brezhnev looks to Chernenko to copolicy. He has sought to enhance Cherin this field by taking him on various and by sending him to Paris last week delegation to the French Communist Par	nenko's credentials foreign visits as the head of the	25X1
Chernenko has emerged as a strong Brezhnev's approaches to the West, incorposals on arms control. In a speech i election to the Supreme Soviet, Chernethan any leader other than Brezhnev in portance of strategic arms limitation attention to their potential economic	luding his pro- n 1979 marking his nko went further stressing the im- talks and in calling	25 X 1
Chernenko also appears to have be concerned over the freeze in relations following the invasion of Afghanistan. tant round of leadership speeches in loublicly endorse the invasion and cound overreacting to the West's stand.	with the West  During an impor-  980, he did not	25X1
Although Chernenko has taken the Poland as other Politburo members, he different assessment of its lessons. For the Polish situation more on the Poloss of contact with its people than, on the party's loss of its ideological	seems to have a He places the blame olish leadership's as Suslov thought,	25X1
In the domestic sphere, Chernenko cultivate the image of a leader attuned ngs. He has led the fight against percendencies, promoted the creation of coublic opinion, called for greater introushed for improvements in consumer we hat greater attention be paid to completitizens.	d to popular feel- tty bureaucratic ommissions to study raparty "democracy," lfare, and urged	25X1
	continued
	Top Secret	05)//
10		25 X 1

	Top Secret	25 X 1
		ı
Such proposals are often vague and	d may be large	ely cosmetic. They collectively suggest,	however, that	_ Chernenko favors a more open and respon	nsive style of	:
leadership and a less doctrinaire appro	oach to dealin	ıg with the problems facing Soviet society	y than the app	roach favored by Kirilenko or Suslov.		25X1
Now reaponabilities and the
New responsibilities and the press	sures of polit	ical realities may cause Chernenko to alter	his views in	the months ahead. His current position on	most importan	.t
issues places him at the less conservat	live end of th	.e
Politburo's political spectrum. When will be difficult for him to enlist suf	Breznnev goes,	lt
to become General Secretary unless he m	ricient suppo	rt
stance.	modifies his	25X1
		23/1
Chernenko does not appear to have	close allies	other than Brezhnev among the full members of	the Polithur	Orner
His policy views seem to conflict with	those of Kiri	lenko
and Premier Tikhonov, and his identific	ration with Br	ezhnev!e
"opening to the West" and arms control	proposals cou	ld become a liability if relations with the	e West contin	ue to deteriorate.
		25 X 1
Nevertheless, Chernenko has come a	long way in	the hierarchy, and he will continue his eff	forts to impro	ve
his position. Suslov's death has given	him, with Br	ezhnev's help, increased opportunities to do so.	Even if he	succeeds Brezhnev, however, Chernenko's in	fluence is li	kely
to be circumscribed.		25 X 1
Charponica regulation to the training of the t		25/(1
Chernenko would not initially inhe	rit much of Brezhnev's authority, and, at 70, he mi	gnt not have enough time to consolidate his position	. Moreover,	like
Brezhnev, he would need to balance the of powerful bureaucratic interests, and	conflicting as	emands constraints would further limit his cho	igos	Jm1 C
orange would raiding rimit his cho	rces.
		25 X 1

Top Secret 25X1

Approved For Release 2008/08/28 : CIA-RDP84T00301R000100010128-5

Top Secret